Where You Live Matters

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT

KHALID M.

We're happy to welcome Khalid to our CityView family. His life journey has taken him to some fascinating places. Having lived in India, Nigeria, Pakistan, and England, and traveled to many other countries, he brings a wealth of global experiences and stories to share. Professionally, Khalid has an impressive background as the director of pharmaceutical marketing. He also ran his own business building steel structures for commercial buildings before moving to the U.S. In his free time, Khalid has enjoyed creative hobbies like building intricate airplane models and collecting stamps. He's always had a love for reading, especially historical literature, with The Gathering Storm being one of his favorite books. That love of reading is something he's carried with him to this day. We're looking forward to getting to know Khalid and hearing more about his life experiences.
