CITYVIEW

Where You Live Matters

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT

MARTIN W.

We're excited to welcome Martin to our CityView community! Martin, originally from the Bronx, has lived an incredible life. He served in the U.S. Army, where he endured a brutal winter during basic training before being sent to Fort Sam Houston, Texas for medical training. Later, he worked at Walter Reed General Hospital in Washington, D.C., where he met President Kennedy. Martin's love for Israel began after the Six-Day War, leading him to work on three different kibbutzim for 18 months. Eventually, he moved to North Hollywood, where he met his wife and began his 30-year career as a detention officer with the LAPD. He also served as their Hebrew interpreter, even interrogating the godfather of the Israeli mafia at one point. His greatest joy has always been his family. We're so happy to have him with us and can't wait to hear more of his amazing story!
